COURSE DESCRIPTION

The course begins with a few preliminary risk management and financial engineering concepts that underpin much of the material of the course. The coverage includes a brief historical review of the risks that banks face and of the risk regulations in the banking sector.

The course then covers an overview of various market risk analytical techniques, including sensitivity analysis and stress testing. A fair amount of focus is placed on “internal models approaches” for capital adequacy and the use of “Value at risk” (VaR) as a metric for regulatory reporting. The pros and cons of various VaR approaches are described.

The focus of the course then shifts for a couple of lectures to counterparty credit risk (CCR) analytics and the emergence of a range of valuation adjustments (xVA’s) when pricing over the counter derivatives.

The credit risk crisis of 2007 serves as a turning point for risk management, representing a shift in regulatory philosophy from an objective of converging regulatory capital with economic capital to one of a divergence. The background behind this shift in focus and the implications for risk management will be discussed in detail for the remaining sections of the course.

As such, the course then turns to some of the risk categories that were underappreciated prior to the crisis, primarily focusing on liquidity risk and model risk. The course concludes with a discussion of economic capital.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course, students will be able to complete the following key tasks:

- Learn and compare the advantages and disadvantages of several methodologies for the measurement of various types of risk, including market, interest rate, credit, operational, liquidity and model risk

- Integrate the methodologies into an overall framework for enterprise risk management

COURSE OVERVIEW AND ASSESSMENT

---

Missed tests/exams will receive a grade of zero unless the student has submitted and been approved for a Notification of Absence or MSAF. Late assignments will be penalized 10% for each day they are late. Your final grade will be calculated as follows:

Components and Weights

Case Analysis	See separate document for details	20%
Bank analysis &amp; presentation	See separate document for details	35%
Mid-Term	Details to be provided	45%
Total		100%

Grade Conversion

At the end of the course your overall percentage grade will be converted to your letter grade in accordance with the following conversion scheme:

LETTER GRADE	PERCENT	POINTS
A+	90-100	12
A	85-89	11
A-	80-84	10
B+	75-79	9
B	70-74	8
B-	60-69	7
F	00-59	0

COURSE DELIVERABLES

Case Analysis

The case analysis assignment will be completed in groups of up to 5 students. Each group will select a case from the list provided. Allocation will be done on a first-come first-served basis. Details of the case analysis are found in a separate document on Avenue.

Students are strongly encouraged to explore the data and trading related resources available in-person and/or virtually in the DSB's Allen H. Gould Trading Floor.

Bank Analysis & Presentation

This analysis and in-class presentation will be completed in groups of up to 5 students. Each group will analysis a bank's capital and risk position from the list provided. Allocation will be done on a first-come, first-served basis. Details of the effort is found in a separate document on Avenue.

Mid-Term Exam

The mid-term exam can include multiple choice and/or written answers.

The mid-term exam is open-book and will cover material from the textbook, any assigned readings, lectures and class discussion.

End of textbook chapter questions will be provided for student review and self-confirmation of mastery of material learning outcomes. These will be made available as part of each lecture's material on Avenue. These questions are also intended as foundation for the group project company analysis and provide a perspective on written questions on the mid-term exam.

COMMUNICATION AND FEEDBACK

---

Students who wish to correspond with instructors or TAs directly via email must send messages that originate from their official McMaster University email account. This protects the confidentiality and sensitivity of information as well as confirms the identity of the student. Emails regarding course issues should NOT be sent to the Area Administrative Assistants.

REQUESTING RELIEF FOR MISSED ACADEMIC WORK

---

In the event of an absence for medical or other reasons, students should review and follow the Missed Term Work regulations that our outlined on the Master of Finance website;

<https://mfin.degroot.mcmaster.ca/current-students/missed-term-work/>

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

---

You are expected to exhibit honesty and use ethical behaviour in all aspects of the learning process. Academic credentials you earn are rooted in principles of honesty and academic integrity. It is your responsibility to understand what constitutes academic dishonesty.

Academic dishonesty is to knowingly act or fail to act in a way that results or could result in unearned academic credit or advantage. This behaviour can result in serious consequences, e.g. the grade of zero on an assignment, loss of credit with a notation on the transcript (notation reads: "Grade of F assigned for academic dishonesty"), and/or suspension or expulsion from the university.

For information on the various types of academic dishonesty please refer to the Academic Integrity Policy, located at:

www.mcmaster.ca/academicintegrity

The following illustrates only three forms of academic dishonesty:

- plagiarism, e.g. the submission of work that is not one's own or for which other credit has

- been obtained.
- improper collaboration in group work.
  - copying or using unauthorized aids in tests and examinations.

AUTHENTICITY/PLAGIARISM DETECTION

---

Some courses may use a web-based service (Turnitin.com) to reveal authenticity and ownership of student submitted work. For courses using such software, students will be expected to submit their work electronically either directly to Turnitin.com or via an online learning platform (e.g. A2L, etc.) using plagiarism detection (a service supported by Turnitin.com) so it can be checked for academic dishonesty.

Students who do not wish their work to be submitted through the plagiarism detection software must inform the Instructor before the assignment is due. No penalty will be assigned to a student who does not submit work to the plagiarism detection software.

All submitted work is subject to normal verification that standards of academic integrity have been upheld (e.g., on-line search, other software, etc.). For more details about McMaster's use of Turnitin.com please go to www.mcmaster.ca/academicintegrity.

COURSES WITH AN ON-LINE ELEMENT

---

Some courses may use on-line elements (e.g. e-mail, Avenue to Learn (A2L), LearnLink, web pages, capa, Moodle, ThinkingCap, etc.). Students should be aware that, when they access the electronic components of a course using these elements, private information such as first and last names, user names for the McMaster e-mail accounts, and program affiliation may become apparent to all other students in the same course.

The available information is dependent on the technology used. Continuation in a course that uses on-line elements will be deemed consent to this disclosure. If you have any questions or concerns about such disclosure please discuss this with the course instructor.

ON-LINE PROCTORING

---

Some courses may use online proctoring software for tests and exams. This software may require students to turn on their video camera, present identification, monitor and record their computer activities, and/or lock/restrict their browser or other applications/software during tests or exams. This software may be required to be installed before the test/exam begins.

CONDUCT EXPECTATIONS

---

As a McMaster student, you have the right to experience, and the responsibility to demonstrate, respectful and dignified interactions within all of our living, learning and working communities. These expectations are described in the Code of Student Rights & Responsibilities (the “Code”). All students share the responsibility of maintaining a positive environment for the academic and personal growth of all McMaster community members, whether in person or online.

It is essential that students be mindful of their interactions online, as the Code remains in effect in virtual learning environments. The Code applies to any interactions that adversely affect, disrupt, or interfere with reasonable participation in University activities. Student disruptions or behaviours that interfere with university functions on online platforms (e.g. use of Avenue 2 Learn, WebEx or Zoom for delivery), will be taken very seriously and will be investigated. Outcomes may include restriction or removal of the involved students’ access to these platforms.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION OF STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

---

Students with disabilities who require academic accommodation must contact Student Accessibility Services (SAS) at 905-525-9140 ext. 28652 or sas@mcmaster.ca to make arrangements with a Program Coordinator. For further information, consult McMaster University’s Academic Accommodation of Students with Disabilities policy.

ACADEMIC ACCOMMODATION FOR RELIGIOUS, INDIGENOUS OR SPIRITUAL OBSERVANCES (RISO)

---

Students requiring academic accommodation based on religious, indigenous or spiritual observances should follow the procedures set out in the RISO policy. Students should submit their request to their Faculty Office normally within 10 working days of the beginning of term in which they anticipate a need for accommodation or to the Registrar's Office prior to their examinations.

Students should also contact their instructors as soon as possible to make alternative arrangements for classes, assignments, and tests.

COPYRIGHT AND RECORDING

---

Students are advised that lectures, demonstrations, performances, and any other course material provided by an instructor include copyright protected works. The Copyright Act and copyright law protect every original literary, dramatic, musical and artistic work, including lectures by University instructors.

The recording of lectures, tutorials, or other methods of instruction may occur during a course. Recording may be done by either the instructor for the purpose of authorized distribution, or by a student for the purpose of personal study. Students should be aware that their voice and/or image may be recorded by others during the class. Please speak with the instructor if this is a concern for you.

EXTREME CIRCUMSTANCES

---

The University reserves the right to change the dates and deadlines for any or all courses in extreme circumstances (e.g., severe weather, labour disruptions, etc.). Changes will be communicated through regular McMaster communication channels, such as McMaster Daily News, A2L and/or McMaster email.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF COURSE POLICIES

---

Your enrolment in Finance 712 will be considered to be an implicit acknowledgement of the course policies outlined above, or of any other that may be announced during lecture and/or on A2L. It is your responsibility to read this course outline, to familiarize yourself with the course policies and to act accordingly.

Lack of awareness of the course policies cannot be invoked at any point during this course for failure to meet them. It is your responsibility to ask for clarification on any policies that you do not understand.
